Preferred Method of Communication

If you have questions or concerns about our course, please send your messages to Dr. McDaniel at paul.mcdaniel@kennesaw.edu. I will do my best to respond within 24 hours, Monday to Friday, during regular business hours (9:00 AM to 5:00 PM). For messages that arrive over the weekend (after 5:00 PM on Friday) or during holidays/breaks, I will respond the next business day. While I will also respond to messages sent through the D2L email message platform within the online course, it may take longer for me to respond than via regular KSU email. Email is a primary form of communication for businesses and other professional settings such as at a university. Knowing when and how to write effective emails is critical because email often provides the first impression of you and your communication skills (i.e., sending a professional email within a professional setting is not the same as sending a text message to a friend). As such, please refer to the KSU Writing Center's Guide on Writing Professional Emails.

Course Description & Purpose

A thematic approach is applied to analyze human cultures, to examine world cultural regions, to note the spread of cultural traits, to interpret interactions between culture and environment, and to appreciate multiple traits of cultures and cultural landscapes. The five themes of region, diffusion, ecology, integration, and landscape are used to explore historical and contemporary issues of population, agriculture, politics, language, religion, ethnicity, popular culture, and urban spaces. The philosophy of the course is based on the premise that the built environment is a spatial expression of the beliefs, attitudes, and practices of a people. 3 credit hours.

Course Objectives

After successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

1. Describe and explain the five themes of cultural geography, including culture region, cultural diffusion (or mobility), cultural integration (or globalization), cultural ecology (or nature-culture), and cultural landscape.

2. Compare and contrast folk culture, indigenous culture, and popular culture and examples of the spatial manifestations of each on the landscape.
3. Describe how geographers use the five themes of cultural geography to study people, places, and the environment.
4. Apply the five themes of cultural geography to analyze, discuss, and write about folk culture, indigenous culture, and popular culture, as well as contemporary cultural geographic issues, processes, and outcomes, and how cultural geography approaches can inform our understanding of local, regional, national, and global activities and impacts.
5. Illustrate cultural geography proficiency by communicating cultural geography effectively through writing, discussions, presentations, and participation.

Required Textbook/Supporting Materials

Required Textbook:

Neumann, Roderick P., and Patricia L. Price. 2019. Contemporary Human Geography: Culture, Globalization, Landscape. 2nd Edition. W. H. Freeman & Company. ISBN: 9781319135041 (this is for the e-book version of the textbook).

(Contextual note about this textbook: This is the latest version of the classic cultural geography textbook, "Fundamentals of the Human Mosaic: A Thematic Approach to Cultural Geography", by the late Dr. Terry Jordan-Bychkov, Mona Domosh, Roderick P. Neumann, and Patricia L. Price, which incorporated the five themes of cultural geography: culture region, cultural diffusion, cultural ecology, cultural integration, and cultural landscape).

Recommended Readings: To add further context to textbook concepts, class discussions, and ongoing current events, a select set of supplemental readings may be made available at the discretion of the instructor. These readings may be drawn from newspapers, magazines, academic journals, book chapters, etc., and would be made available to students online via D2L. Please note that every attempt will be made to include the research and work done by researchers and scholars who have contributed to geographic thought who are often underrepresented in academia.

Technology requirements: You will need access to a computer with an internet connection to access the D2L course site. To view some course materials, you will also need Adobe Reader to view PDF files, MS PowerPoint to view the lecture slides, and MS Word or another word processor to view some course documents and to complete the research paper. To function in this online course, you will also need to be able to use basic Internet functions, email, D2L, and MS Office products.

Course Policies and Expectations

Attendance

Class Participation. For this class, you should be diligent about reading the required textbook as class activities (lectures, quizzes, exams, discussions) are based on content directly from the textbook. Regular participation and meeting course graded activity deadlines are an essential component to succeeding in this class. Consider our class an assemblage of individuals that is unique and irreplaceable. Irregular participation not only hurts a student's course work, but it weakens the class as a whole. If you need to miss a graded activity deadline for a reasonable reason, please let me know via email along with a valid excuse (such as a doctor's note). If you have an unplanned missed deadline, please let me know about the reason via email as soon as possible after the missed due date occurs along with documentation for the reason for missing the due date. Financial Aid Attendance Compliance: You are responsible for determining your enrollment status in all classes to protect your financial aid monies. NOT ATTENDING A CLASS FOR WHICH YOU ARE REGISTERED IS NOT THE SAME AS WITHDRAWING FROM THE COURSE. You must complete an online withdrawal to be removed from a course. If you stop attending class but do not complete an online withdrawal BEFORE the last day to drop without academic penalty, you will receive a grade of WF, which counts as an F in calculating your grade point average and counts as a completed course for determining your financial aid award.

Interaction and Engagement

This course provides regular and substantive interaction between the learners and the instructor by providing direct instruction via the instructor-created and recorded audio/video lectures, assessing and providing timely feedback on student coursework, providing information and responding to questions about the content, and facilitating discussions regarding the content of the course. The faculty member will also be monitoring student academic engagement and success (via the various required course activities and the tools provided by D2L) and promptly and proactively engage in substantive interaction with a student when needed on the basis of such monitoring, or upon request by the student.

AI Use Allowed, but Not Required

This policy statement and text is from the KSU Syllabus Template: In this class, you are welcome to use AI for any purpose. However, you should note that all AI generative tools still tend to make up incorrect facts and fake citations, code generation models tend to produce inaccurate outputs, and image/art generation tools can produce copied work or offensive products. You will be responsible for any inaccurate, biased, offensive, or otherwise unethical content you submit regardless of whether it originally comes from you or an AI tool. If you use an AI tool, its contribution must be credited in your submission. The use of an AI tool without acknowledgement is cheating and constitutes a violation of the KSU Code of Academic Integrity.

Grading & Evaluation Policies

All graded activity due dates are clearly listed in multiple locations to help you stay organized and on schedule for successful completion of all course components. Due dates are clearly listed in the course grade activity chart below, in the module schedule further below in this syllabus, in D2L on each individual activity page, and in the online D2L course calendar. Typically, I will do my best to grade items and return feedback to you in the grade item submission area within D2L within one week of the due date for the item.

Late Work Policy

Late work may be accepted at the discretion of the instructor through either making pre-arrangements for a late submission with a valid excuse or for an unplanned missed due date with a valid excuse. Simply submitting a graded activity late without communicating with the instructor as to the reason why it was submitted late is unprofessional. Saying you were confused about due dates or simply forgot about the course requirements is also unprofessional. It is crucial to highlight that in professional settings, meeting deadlines and understanding expectations are fundamental. These skills transcend specific courses or majors and are vital in any career path. I encourage you to reflect on the importance of carefully reviewing course materials and their requirements, seeking clarification when needed, and managing deadlines effectively. Developing these skills during your academic journey is invaluable as they directly translate into success in your career. Late work most likely will not be accepted more than one week after the stated due date for a particular item. However, "life happens" and so it may be necessary for you to submit something late due to an unforeseen circumstance. Such issues are taken into account, but please communicate with the professor. So that final course grades can be submitted to the university on schedule, no late work will be accepted after the last official day of class for the term as stated in the official university calendar unless there is a valid reason (such as pre-arranged accommodations or a valid documented excuse such as a doctor's note).

Final Course Grading Scale

800 Total Possible Points. Final course grades will be assigned based upon the total points earned from the items described in detail below out of 800 total possible points, computed to a percentage according to the grade guideline below. To determine your percent grade, simply add up the total points you have earned in the course, then divide by the total possible points in the course (800 total possible points), then multiply by 100 to arrive at your percent grade out of 100 percent.

A = 90% to 100% B = 80% to 89% C = 70% to 79% D = 60% to 69% F = 0% to 59%

I will round up final course grades if they are $>$ or $= 0.5$ or above, for example, an 89.6 is an A, but 79.2 is a C.

Cultural Geography Google Earth Project

Over the course of the semester, you will design and produce an interactive geovisual project using the platform Google Earth. This is the major semester project for this course. The overall project is out of a total possible 300 points (there are four different graded activities throughout the semester that add up to the 300 possible points...see details below and due dates in syllabus). The final Google Earth Project product will be an argument driven creative interactive digital map narrative story tour of a particular topic that you will examine through the lenses of the Five Themes of Cultural Geography as the topic occurs in a particular place or region. Your project should explore the significance of geographic space, place, and cultural geography to your selected topic. Think about how you can examine a topic in a particular place or region through the Five Themes of Cultural Geography: Culture Region, Cultural Diffusion (Mobility), Cultural Interaction (Globalization), Cultural Ecology (Nature-Culture), and Cultural Landscape. Additional instructions and details are found in the Google Earth Project module folder in D2L.

Working with a digital platform and building your own maps and accompanying descriptive text narrative may seem time consuming at first, but is also extremely rewarding and an exciting alternative to a typical "research/term paper". This assignment may be intimidating at first if you have little experience with digital mapping, Google Earth, or other similar digital platforms. However, through the gradual steps, including the specific step-by-step guidance, and the examples provided, the project is approachable for everyone no matter your experience level with Google Earth and digital mapping. By completing this project, you will gain skills in creating a project within Google Earth. These skills will be useful beyond this course, as working with geospatial technology is a rapidly-growing in-demand skills set across many industries in the twenty-first century.

You must first select a specific topic for your Google Earth Project (a thorough list of example topics is provided in the Google Earth Project module in D2L). The final Google Earth Project product will be an argument driven creative interactive digital map narrative story tour of a particular topic that you will examine through the lenses of the Five Themes of Cultural Geography as the topic occurs in a particular place or region. Your project should explore the significance of geographic space, place, and cultural geography to your selected topic. Think about how you can examine a topic in a particular place or region through the Five Themes of Cultural Geography: Culture Region, Cultural Diffusion (Mobility), Cultural Interaction (Globalization), Cultural Ecology (Nature-Culture), and Cultural Landscape. Whatever topic you choose to focus on, it is important that your given topic relates to the broader course focus on Cultural Geography and that it has a clear spatial component and is driven by a central question. Full instructions, details, list of topic ideas, links to example Google Earth Projects, and links to references and help documents for the project are all posted in the Google Earth Project module folder on D2L.

One item of note, when you start to create your Google Earth Project in Google Earth, please select the option to create a project that is saved to Google Drive, NOT the option that creates a KML file (DO NOT create the KML version, simply create the Google Drive version). With the option to save it to google drive, you can then change the sharing settings of your project to simply share the weblink to your project with me and other students as part of the various project deliverables. Final project shareable web links and presentations will also be submitted to a discussion forum so that everyone in the class can view and interact with each final project. You will submit the shareable web link to your Google Earth Project to the appropriate assignment dropbox in D2L and to a discussion forum in the Google Earth Project module in D2L. Along with the web link and presentation, you must also post a brief summary title and overview about your project in the discussion forum. In addition to the above, within the final Google Earth Project discussion forum, you must also respond to at least three other students' final project discussion posts after viewing their projects. Please submit the web link to the final version of your Google Earth Project to the Final Google Earth Project assignment dropbox AND to the Final Google Earth Project Discussion forum.

The overall Google Earth Project is out of a total of 300 points and is completed via four different graded activities throughout the semester that are designed to build upon one another and help you create a professional and polished overall project by the end of the semester:

Google Earth Project Draft for Feedback (100 points)

One item of note, when you actually start to create your Google Earth Project in Google Earth, please select the option to create a project that is saved to Google Drive, NOT the option that creates a KML file (DO NOT create the KML version, simply create the Google Drive version...this is important for accessibility for others, including the instructor and other students in the class, to quickly view each Google Earth Project created in this class). With the option to save it to google drive, you can then change the sharing settings of your project to simply share the weblink to your project with the instructor and other students as part of the various project deliverables. Please submit the shareable weblink to the draft version of your Google Earth Project in the appropriate assignment dropbox in D2L (please make sure you have updated the sharing settings in your google earth project to "anyone with a link can view" so that the instructor will be able to view your project). If the dropbox doesn't let you simply submit a link, then you may have to paste the link to your Google Earth Project into a word document and then upload and attach that document in the assignment dropbox. Please include a project title and brief summary text overview. The instructor will provide timely feedback on the draft version of your project.

- Due March 31

Final Google Earth Project (100 points)

You will submit the shareable web link to your Google Earth Project to the appropriate assignment dropbox in D2L and to a discussion forum in the Google Earth Project module in D2L. One item of note, when you actually start to create your Google Earth Project in Google Earth, please select the option to create a project that is saved to Google Drive, NOT the option that creates a KML file (DO NOT create the KML version, simply create the Google Drive version). With the option to save it to google drive, you can then change the sharing settings of your project to simply share the weblink to your project with me and other students as part of the various project deliverables. Final project shareable web links will also be submitted to a discussion forum so that everyone in the class can view and interact with each final project.

- Due April 25

Final Google Earth Project Presentation (50 points)

Along with the web link, you must also post a brief summary title and overview about your project in the discussion forum and a summary presentation of your Google Earth Project. The presentation may be in the form of a voice over audio/video screen capture recording of you guiding viewers through your Google Earth Project, or a digital presentation file (such as PPT or Prezi using screen shots from your Google Earth Project).

- Due April 25

Final Google Earth Project Discussion (50 points)

Along with the web link, you must also post a brief summary title and overview about your project in the discussion forum. In addition to the above, within the final Google Earth Project discussion forum, you must also respond to at least three other students' final project discussion posts after viewing their projects.

- Due April 29

Communication Rules/Online Course Etiquette

In any classroom setting there are communication rules in place that encourage students to respect others and their opinions. In an online environment the do's and don'ts of online communication are referred to as Netiquette. This netiquette resource may prove useful to students.

How to Succeed in this Class

To succeed in this class, you will need to log on daily, and refer to the detailed schedule in this syllabus which lists the course modules week-by-week and the due dates for discussions, reading quizzes, Google Earth Project, and exams. The D2L course calendar also specifies due dates for all course items. An online class can be both challenging and exciting. You need to have and make the time to complete all the activities, participate in discussions, and be proactive and open-minded to learning. You also need to be self-motivated and self-disciplined to succeed.

What is Plagiarism?
