Course Description

This course examines key issues that affect population patterns and change at different geographic scales, including fertility, mortality, demographic change, race and ethnicity, internal and international migration, refugee movement, and internal displacement. Students will gain a theoretical framework to understand local, national, regional, and global population dynamics, and an applied framework to assess contemporary issues such as population growth, labor migration, refugee resettlement, immigration policy, and transnational identity.

Prerequisite: GEOG 1101 or GEOG 1130

Course Learning Objectives

Through this course, students should be able to:

1. Apply the language and methods of population geography, demography, and migration studies.
2. Analyze and interpret interactions among population dynamics with a critical and historical spatial lens through the use of data and maps.
3. Critically evaluate interactions between human and/or physical geographical processes as they relate to population dynamics and migration across space and time.
4. Practice communicating population geography effectively through writing, discussions, activities, and participation.

Required Texts

The following book is required reading for this course. Please see the syllabus schedule for specific readings each week throughout the semester and due dates for chapter review quizzes.

1. Newbold, K. Bruce. 2017. Population Geography: Tools and Issues. Third Edition. Rowman & Littlefield Publishers. ISBN: 978-1-4422-6531-8.

Other readings: To add further context to textbook concepts, class discussions, and ongoing current events, a select set of supplemental readings may be made available at the discretion of the instructor. These readings may be drawn from newspapers, magazines, academic journals, book chapters, etc., and would be made available to students online via D2L.

You must respond in detail (see discussion grading rubric below for specific requirements) to the discussion topic prompt/question and respond in one paragraph each to at least 3 other classmates' responses to create a dialogue around the topics that the entire class is participating in. See schedule overview for discussion due dates and related course modules.

Grading Rubric for Each Discussion Assignment

	Exemplary	Midpoint	Unsatisfactory
Content	10 points Post contains unique and novel ideas. Shows you have thought critically about the material and addresses all questions in the prompt.	5 points Post is substantial but does not show much critical thinking about the topic. Mainly summarizes the main point or restates what has already been said by others.	0 points Post has little substance, off topic, does not contribute to the discussion.
Reference and Support	5 points The post has clearly and explicitly referenced material to the readings and personal experiences to reinforce the opinion/statements.	2.5 points Some material or personal experiences are referenced.	0 points There is no clear support for the statements.
Length of Post	5 points Post is 350 words or more.	2.5 points Post is 201 to 349 words.	0 points Post is less than 200 words.
Meaningful Responses to Three Other Students' Posts	5 points Three responses are each 50 words or more and show strong evidence of thought.	2.5 points Responses are 25 to 49 words OR don't show strong evidence of thought OR less than three responses.	0 points No response posts.

Research Paper (18.2 percent of total course grade): Population geography and migration studies are fundamental subdisciplines of human geography. Indeed, there are several academic journals within geography exclusively devoted to these topics. But within population geography and migration studies, there are many specific topics of interest that may be explored at different geographic scales, from the local to the global. For this paper, please choose one specific sub-topic of population geography and migration studies (refer to the sub-topics found in the course textbook table of contents for examples) and explore that topic at the geographic scale of your choice (local, state, national, global) or compare the particular topic across geographic scales.

Research Paper References and Sources Format

Citations: Use APA style. With the exception of general knowledge, cite the source of all material that is not your own. Here are some basic examples:

In Central Boston, new highways constructed in the 1950s severed old neighborhoods, an example being the North End (Conzen, 1990).

Remember that direct quotes must have a page number:

The US and Canada enjoy a long-standing political boundary, but political issues sometimes “create occasional friction” between the two countries (White, Diamond, Chacko, Scheidt, & Bradshaw 2012 p. 355).

List of Sources: Be consistent. Remember that each citation must be in the bibliography and that each source must be cited at least once. Here are some basic examples:

Books

Hart, J. (1998). The rural landscape. Baltimore, MD: Johns Hopkins University Press.

Journal and magazine articles

Weightman, B. (1996). Sacred landscapes and the phenomenon of light. The Geographical Review. 86(1): 59-71.

Web sources must include the author and/or organization, the title of the article, the issue of the publication (if applicable), and the site address. You will not receive credit for simply giving the site address.

Course Expectations

Communication Rules

In any classroom setting there are communication rules in place that encourage students to respect others and their opinions. In an online environment the do's and don'ts of online communication are referred to as Netiquette. As a student in this course you should:

- Be sensitive and reflective to what others are saying.
- Avoid typing in ALL CAPITALS because it is difficult to read and is considered the electronic version of SHOUTING.
- Don't flame - These are outbursts of extreme emotion or opinion.
- Think before you hit the post (enter/reply) button. You can't take it back!
- Don't use offensive language.
- Use clear subject lines.
- Don't use abbreviations or acronyms unless the entire class knows them.
- Be forgiving. Anyone can make a mistake.
- Keep the dialog collegial and professional, humor is difficult to convey in an online environment.

- Always assume good intent and respond accordingly. If you are unsure of or annoyed by a message, wait 24 hours before responding.

Late Assignments

All assignments will be due by 11:59 PM on the date indicated on the class schedule document. Late assignments will be accepted with a 10 percent reduction in the item's grade for each day that the item is late (i.e., if the item is 2 days late then the grade will be reduced by 20 percent).

Student Responsibility

Distance learning requires more individual discipline than traditional classes, and requires that you have at least some control over your time and schedule. It is not easier or less time than face-to-face courses. During each week, students are expected to:

- Check D2L course website regularly;
- Follow the weekly study guide;
- Study the assigned material, such as; virtual lectures, textbook chapters, PPT slides, etc.;
- Complete and submit assigned quizzes or homework on time.

Tips for Effective Online Learning

For an online class, students can really enjoy the benefits of learning at your own pace and in whatever environment that you choose. Below are some tips for effective online learning:

- Check the D2L course website regularly. Always be aware of the current status of the course. It might be helpful to subscribe to the RSS feeds within the News Tool, sign up for text message alerts, or subscribe to your posts within the Discussion Tool. By taking advantage of the tools within the environment and the posted learning material, you can maintain an enhanced learning experience.
- Work closely with your instructor. If you have any questions, please contact me immediately. The best way to contact me is via email, and you will be guaranteed to have a reply within 12 hours.
- Begin your work early. If you can start a task early, don't start late. Assuming you spend the same amount of time completing the task, starting later will be much more stressful than starting early. Never wait until the last minute to begin an assignment! You'll have no turnaround time if you need help or something happens.

What is Plagiarism?

Plagiarism is defined as the practice of taking someone else's work or ideas and passing them off as one's own. If you are unaware or uncertain on how to properly cite a particular source, please do not neglect to add the citation—that is considered plagiarism.

If you have questions on how to cite your work, please contact me immediately! For more information, please refer to the "Plagiarism Policy" under the Policies section of this syllabus.

Turnitin

Students agree that by taking this course all required papers may be subject to submission for textual similarity review to Turnitin.com for the detection of plagiarism. All submitted papers will be included as source documents in the Turnitin.com reference database solely for the purpose of detecting plagiarism of such papers. Use of the Turnitin.com service is subject to the Terms and Conditions of Use posted on the Turnitin.com site.
