Course Description

This course examines key issues that affect population patterns and change at different geographic scales, including fertility, mortality, demographic change, race and ethnicity, internal and international migration, refugee movement, and internal displacement. Students will gain a theoretical framework to understand local, national, regional, and global population dynamics, and an applied framework to assess contemporary issues such as population growth, labor migration, refugee resettlement, immigration policy, and transnational identity.

Prerequisite: GEOG 1101 or GEOG 1130

Course Learning Objectives

Through this course, students should be able to:

1. Apply the language and methods of population geography, demography, and migration studies.
2. Analyze and interpret interactions among population dynamics with a critical and historical spatial lens through the use of data and maps.
3. Critically evaluate interactions between human and/or physical geographical processes as they relate to population dynamics and migration across space and time.
4. Practice communicating population geography effectively through writing, presentations, and/or class activities and participation.

Required Texts

The following two books are required reading for this course. Please see the syllabus schedule for specific readings each week throughout the semester.

1. Newbold, K. Bruce. 2017. Population Geography: Tools and Issues. Third Edition. Rowman & Littlefield Publishers. ISBN: 978-1-4422-6531-8.
2. Stephen Castles, Hein de Haas, and Mark J. Miller. 2014. The Age of Migration: International Population Movements in the Modern World. Fifth Edition. Guilford Press. ISBN: 978-1-4625-1311-6.

Other readings (see syllabus schedule): To add further context to textbook concepts, class discussions, and ongoing current events, a select set of supplemental readings may be made available at the discretion of the instructor. These readings may be drawn from newspapers, magazines, academic journals, book chapters, etc., and would be made available as handouts in class or online via D2L.

Course Requirements/Assignments/Grading

Grade Component	Points	Percent
Participation	50	10%
Assignments/Activities	100	20%
Research Paper	100	20%
Research Paper Presentation	50	10%
Exam 1 (Midterm Exam)	100	20%
Exam 2 (Final Exam)	100	20%
COURSE TOTAL	500	100%

Final course grades will be assigned based upon the total points from the items above out of 500 total possible points, computed to a percentage according to the grade guideline below.

A = 90-100	D = 60-69.9
B = 80-89.9	F = <59.9
C = 70-79.9

Assignments/Activities (20 percent of total course grade): Five assignments/activities will be completed either in-class or out-of-class during the semester. The assignments will focus on learning and utilizing tools, methods, and techniques for analyzing data and trends related to issues in population geography and migration. Each assignment is out of 20 points. The total assignments grade for all five assignments is out of 100 points and is 20 percent of the total course grade.

1. Assignment 1: Working with Census Data to Assess Population Patterns and Demographic Change
2. Assignment 2: Using Census Data to Explore Internal Migration in the U.S.
3. Assignment 3: Using Data to Explore International Migration to the United States
4. Assignment 4: Using Data to Explore Contemporary Refugee Population Trends
5. Assignment 5: Your Migration Story / Population Geography Careers

Exams (two exams each worth 20 percent of the final course grade): The exams are non-cumulative and will be multiple choice. Each exam is out of 100 points. Exam #1 covers class discussions and readings for Weeks 1-6. Exam #2 covers class discussions and readings for Weeks 7-16.

Participation (10 percent of total course grade): Active participation in class including attending class (attendance will be taken randomly throughout the semester) and participating in class discussions and all other components of the course is important. Consider our class meetings an assemblage of individuals that is unique and irreplaceable. Irregular attendance not only hurts a student's course work, but it weakens the class as a whole. If you need to miss a class for a reasonable reason, please let me know via email ahead of your planned absence. If you have an unplanned absence, please let me know about the reason via email as soon as possible when the absence occurs. Students are expected to attend all lectures and class discussions, complete all assignments and exams, and complete assigned readings by the beginning of the week in which the reading is assigned (refer to schedule presented in this syllabus) in order to actively participate in class discussions each week. Class attendance and participation makes up 10% of the total course grade.

Research Paper and Presentation (30 percent of total course grade. Research Paper is 20 percent of total course grade and the Presentation is 10 percent): Population geography and migration studies are fundamental subdisciplines of human geography. Indeed, there are several academic journals within geography exclusively devoted to these topics. But within population geography and migration studies, there are many specific topics of interest that may be explored at different geography scales, from the local to the global. For this paper, please choose one specific sub-topic of population geography and migration studies (refer to the sub-topics found in the course textbook table of contents for examples) and explore that topic at the geographic scale of your choice (local, state, national, global) or compare the particular topic across geographic scales.

Research Paper References and Sources Format

Citations: Use APA style. With the exception of general knowledge, cite the source of all material that is not your own. Here are some basic examples:

In Central Boston, new highways constructed in the 1950s severed old neighborhoods, an example being the North End (Conzen, 1990).

Remember that direct quotes must have a page number:

The US and Canada enjoy a long-standing political boundary, but political issues sometimes “create occasional friction” between the two countries (White, Diamond, Chacko, Scheidt, & Bradshaw 2012 p. 355).

List of Sources: Be consistent. Remember that each citation must be in the bibliography and that each source must be cited at least once. Here are some basic examples:

Books

Hart, J. (1998). The rural landscape. Baltimore, MD: Johns Hopkins University Press.

Journal and magazine articles

Weightman, B. (1996). Sacred landscapes and the phenomenon of light. The Geographical Review. 86(1): 59-71.

Web sources must include the author and/or organization, the title of the article, the issue of the publication (if applicable), and the site address. You will not receive credit for simply giving the site address.

University Policies

Academic Honesty

Every KSU student is responsible for upholding the provisions of the Student Code of Conduct, as published in the Undergraduate and Graduate Catalogs. Section II of the Student Code of Conduct addresses the University's policy on academic honesty, including provisions regarding plagiarism and cheating, unauthorized access to University materials, misrepresentation/falsification of University records or academic work, malicious removal, retention, or destruction of library materials, malicious/intentional misuse of computer facilities and/or services, and misuse of student identification cards. Incidents of alleged academic misconduct will be handled through the established procedures of the University Judiciary Program, which includes either an "informal" resolution by a faculty member, resulting in a grade adjustment, or a formal hearing procedure, which may subject a student to the Code of Conduct's minimum one semester suspension requirement.

Plagiarism Policy

No student shall receive, attempt to receive, knowingly give or attempt to give unauthorized assistance in the preparation of any work required to be submitted for credit as part of a course (including examinations, laboratory reports, essays, themes, term papers, etc.). When direct quotations are used, they should be indicated, and when the ideas, theories, data, figures, graphs, programs, electronic based information or illustrations of someone other than the student are incorporated into a paper or used in a project, they should be duly acknowledged. For more information, please see: Why is cheating/plagiarism wrong and what will happen if I'm accused of academic misconduct?: <http://scai.kennesaw.edu/students/general-info/cheating.php>

What is Plagiarism?

Every KSU student is responsible for upholding the provisions of the Student Code of Conduct, as found on the Student Conduct and Academic Integrity (SCAI) website <http://scai.kennesaw.edu/students/general-info/cheating.php>. Evidence of collaboration on quizzes, discussions, false identity, or any other form of cheating will result in either an informal resolution by the professor, resulting in an “F” for the course, or a formal hearing which may subject a student to the Code of Conduct’s minimum one semester suspension requirement.

Plagiarism is defined as the practice of taking someone else’s work or ideas and passing them off as one’s own. If you are unaware or uncertain on how to properly cite a particular source, please do not neglect to add the citation—that is considered plagiarism.

If you have questions on how to cite your work, please contact me immediately! For more information, please refer to the “Plagiarism Policy” under the Policies section of this syllabus.
